Promote peaceful and inclusive societies for sustainable development, provide access to justice for all and build effective. So, the first target is End all forms of abuse, exploitation and violence against children. Next, Increase the participation of developing countries in world organizations. The last target is Promote and enforce non-discriminatory laws and policies for sustainable development.

The next, I'm here to talk about Quality Education is key for sustainable development, spanning from early childhood to tertiary levels and fostering lifelong learning.

Within this goal, there are three key targets:

First. Free Primary and Secondary Education (Target 4.1): Ensure free, equitable, and quality primary and secondary education for all by 2030, promoting effective learning outcomes.

Second. Reduce Education Inequality (Target 4.5): Eliminate education inequality, including gender disparities, by 2030, providing equal access to education and vocational training for vulnerable groups.

Last. Eliminate all Discrimination in Education (Target 4.8): Build and upgrade education facilities to be inclusive and safe for all students, eliminating discrimination based on gender, disability, or other factors.

By working together, we can achieve the targets of Quality Education and create a brighter future for all.

The next topic of Reducing inequalities is crucial for fairness, sustainable development, and global prosperity. It promotes equal access to resources, opportunities, and rights, fostering social cohesion and stability, and creating inclusive communities where everyone can thrive.
